

Choose Respect

1. Be more concerned with your walk with the Lord, rather than your husband's. You are your man's wife, not his Holy Spirit.
2. Continue to build him up rather than tear him down. You'll create a lot of peace in your home by doing this.
3. Share your heart with him.
4. Become best friends. Ask him about his day. Take up a hobby with him.
5. Become even better lovers.
6. Put more effort into your role as a wife, than your role as a mom. Remember, the marital relationship came before motherhood.
7. It's easy to nag, condemn and criticize. When you feel the tendency to speak like this, instead, do the opposite. Speak loving, encouraging, and uplifting words into his life. If you can't do this then just bite your tongue.
8. Forgive him like Christ has forgiven you. Keep the right perspective. Remember that you're a sinner too!
9. The two of you are one. So if he's broken, hurting, insecure, etc. guess what? You are too! :) Handle him with care.
10. Rinse and repeat!
